the measure, if it becomes a law, will justify itself by securing disinterested and unbiased decisions on the merits of the claims. The proposed court would be composed of men of learning and dignity, and would not like the present board of commissioners to appear before those persons from whose rulings appeals are taken. The proposed court would soon be able to simplify the examinations of the board, and its decisions could make its recommendations to Congress as to further legislation, if any were needed.

Gen. Shattuck just returned from a trip through thirteen Southern States. He says he found the old sectional feeling about wiped out.

FIFTY-SIXTH CONGRESS.

REGULAR SESSION.

WASHINGTON AND SENATE.—The bill for the government of Hawaii, as passed by the House, was presented and at the request of Mr. Culton, was ordered printed. Mr. Culton said he would not be here for a conference.

Mr. Gallinger, of New Hampshire, presented a petition praying that work on warships be done in the navy yards, navy yards being in the shape of corporations. He said he thought the work ought to be done in the navy yards despite the piles of money in the navy.

A discussion of the muzzling of dogs as a preventive of hydrophobia was precipitated by the presentation by Mr. Gallinger of a letter from the president against the order of the commission of the District of Columbia requiring the muzzling of all dogs.

HEDDLESBORO (Ky.) April 9.—
Everything is quiet here today. SheriffBroughton took several prisoners to Newark today for safe keeping.

He is not known where he is.

A number of special deputy sheriffs are sworn in, and the Republicans say they will be kept as long as they are needed.

The police force is now performing its regular duties.

The general opinion is that there will be no

the first of his two lectures on "The Dependencies of the Executive."

Had night before a large audience.

The lecture was listened to with marked attention and at its close Mr. Cleveland was greeted with prolonged applause.

Mr. Cleveland said:

"As the original government

as established by the original constitutional convention, the President is predominantly the people's official and the Federal courts pass the right of the citizen only when it is absolutely unavoidable; but the President shall take care that he

THE PHILIPPINES. REBELS HANGED.

FIGHTING GEN. FUNSTON IS UNDER INVESTIGATION.

Philippines Were Preparing to Kill Captives Macabebes When the Kansas General's Scouting Party Came Upon Them.

Execution Was Meant to Be a Warning to Other Brigands—Soldiers In- censed at Mutilation and Other Barbarities.

Chaplain Defends the Administration. Aguinaldo in Manila—More Troops Needed—No Sailors Coming from the Orient.

[A. P. DAY REPORT.]

MANILA, April 9, 6:30 a.m.—[By Edward Cahill]—In army circles is the investigation of Brig. Gen. Frederick Funston's execution of two Filipinos and the possibility of a court-martial resulting therefrom. The story is that the Filipinos captured three Macabebes scouts were were crossing the country near San Isidro and were preparing to kill him. The Macabebes, who had escaped and found Gen. Funston with a scouting party near. This man guided the Americans to the rescue of his companions and when the troops approached the Filipinos fled, leaving the Macabebes. Several of the Filipinos were not and when the American division into two, took them to the village square and hanged them without trial, as a warning to the Filipinos.

The present method of warfare and instances of the mutilation of prisoners have incensed the regular army soldiers to such a degree that they have just now taken a stand, which has been done on several occasions recently. There is a strong feeling among the residents and friendly Filipinos that the Chinese general, Pana, who is accused of killing Gen. St. Gaudens to bring Gen. Kobbie, after terrorizing the provinces of Pana, should be severely punished. It is pointed out that his career has been that of a soldier, as he loots and extorts money by torture from worthy natives, leaving alive some of his followers, who immediately escape to the Philippines.

It is believed Pana surrendered because he feared his own men, and he expected to be paroled, like other officers, and enjoy the fruits of his bri-gardance.

DEFENDS OTIS'S RULE.

CHAPLAIN FIERCE REPORT.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—A defense of the administration of affairs at Manila is contained in a report just made to the War Department by Chaplain C. P. Pierce. This officer particularly antagonizes the ex-chaplain of volunteers who has been severely criticizing the conduct of the American troops in the Philippines, making accusations of wholesale intoxication and selling of the enormous increase in the number of liquor-laden saloons in Manila. The chaplain declares that the figures as to the number of saloons have been perverted that the American forces took the place of an untold number of native gin shacks which dispensed liquor to the deplorable effect on the American troops and that the institution of the regimental canteen has resulted in an improvement in the discipline of the troops. He also speaks in terms of praise of the reformation of critical conditions in Manila resulting in general improvement in health.

NEED MORE SOLDIERS

TO BRING PEACE IN LUZON.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Adjt.-Gen. Corbin said today regarding the dispatch from Manila, which stated that reinforcements had been requested by Gens. Young and Bell of Gen. Otis: "No official notice has been given me regarding the matter, but I can state that the forces under Young and Bell are inadequate."

The Adjutant-General said that with such reinforcements as desired Gens. Young and Bell would actively engage the insurgents and attempt, if possible, to restore peace in the provinces of Luzon.

AGUINALDO IN MANILA.

SO THINKING SEVERAL OFFICERS.

NEW YORK, April 8.—A special to the Tribune from Washington says that in the mail from Manila, which has just arrived at the War Department, there were at least two communications expressing conviction that Aguinaldo is hiding in that city. One of these is from a United States Secret Service official, who had found conclusive evidence that the Tagalog leader had been in Manila since the rebel armies in Luzon were dispersed, and who was satisfied that as he had not been captured, he was probably still concealing in the native parts of the town. The other letter was from an army officer attached to headquarters who decided the opinion of all the other military officers that Aguinaldo was certainly not in any of the outlying districts on the island of Luzon, for American troops had too thoroughly searched the entire country for the rebel chief to escape detection, especially as in every province there were enough enemies of Aguinaldo to have him hidden to the soldiers had his presence made it possible.

Other officers recently returned from the Philippines, confirm the impression that Aguinaldo is still in Manila, seeking safety in the Tagalog quarter at Manila, where he would probably find greater seclusion and a more congenial place to live, especially in the capital, especially as it is not frequent that American troops or natives who sympathize with the American rule. Aguinaldo is said to be determined to have a home in Manila, where he has been living for several months, and it is inconceivable to those who know him that he would have frequent visits to his family. It is said that one of his physical appearance and with his ingenuity he would incur little or no chance of detection, if he assumed the dress of a native peddler or ordinary workman.

Gen. Otis is said to have no doubt that Aguinaldo has not been out of Manila since he left, and that he has refused to offer any reward for his apprehension, though the secret service men have every assurance that Aguinaldo is not in the capital, especially as it is not frequent that American troops or natives who sympathize with the American rule. Aguinaldo is said to be determined to have a home in Manila, where he has been living for several months, and it is inconceivable to those who know him that he would have frequent visits to his family. It is said that one of his physical appearance and with his ingenuity he would incur little or no chance of detection, if he assumed the dress of a native peddler or ordinary workman.

Gen. Otis is said to have no doubt that Aguinaldo has not been out of Manila since he left, and that he has refused to offer any reward for his apprehension, though the secret service men have every assurance that Aguinaldo is not in the capital, especially as it is not frequent that American troops or natives who sympathize with the American rule. Looking For An Heir.

M. Esterhazy, the German Vice-Consul for this city, with headquarters at No. 501 East First street, is making every effort to locate Otto Daubert, a German 22 year old, a son of Gustav Daubert of Oberhausen, Germany. At least accounts the young man was reported in the vicinity of Los Angeles. A notice has been received by a consular agent that the young man has fallen heir to a considerable fortune.

Bryan's Departure.

Col. W. J. Bryan spent Sunday night at Mrs. Bryan's residence, breakfasted there and yesterday morning was driven directly to the Santa Fe station to take the train for Santa Ana and his tour around the Southern California circle. He took a black and shiny coat to have the aspect of "Jeffersonian simplicity" to the cars. He shook hands with a few people before getting aboard and received a salute of shouts.

Fire on Sixth Street.

A small building in the rear of Frank X. Knollmiller's mattress factory, No. 596 West Sixth street, used as a workshop and storage room, was destroyed by fire at 6:45 o'clock last night. Two other buildings belonging to D. L. Olmstead were also burned. The origin of the fire is unknown. The total loss is about $450. Mr. Knollmiller's loss was $200, on which he carried a policy of $75. The sheds were not insured.

Many Will Attend.

The special committee appointed from the Chamber of Commerce to arrange for the arrival of delegations from Los Angeles to the Riverside street fair reports that in answer to postal cards sent out Saturday over fifty members of the chamber have agreed to be on the excursion. The special rate of $1.75 for the round trip, made by the Southern Pacific company, is open to all who wish to avail themselves of the service on the day assigned to the local chamber of commerce.

American Expedition.

The local Chamber of Commerce is in receipt of a communication from F. W. Taylor, superintendent of the Pan-American Exposition, stating that arrangements have been made to have the exhibits as early as November of this year. The demand for space in the agricultural building exceeded the highest expectations of the management. The agricultural managers are looking to Southern California for many interesting exhibits which the local chamber will be asked to supply.

Normal Trustees Meet.

The board of trustees of the local Normal School met at that institution last evening to examine plans for the $20,000 addition to be made to the building. The trustees, who are all members of the faculty, and they were submitted to President Pierce and the members of the faculty to suggest changes. The trustees will meet next Monday to adopt plans. Those present last evening were President N. P. Conroy, Henry O'Malley, R. H. F. Vardel, Esq., of this city; E. J. Louis, San Diego, and J. S. Collins, Ventura.

Blacksmith in Trouble.

E. Tucker, blacksmith, who has a shop at No. 225 West Jefferson street, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Officer McGraw, on a warrant charging him with battery. Tucker was held guilty and arraigned before Justice Morgan and was released on $10 bail pending sentence today. The complaining witness in the case is A. J. Voss, who was hit in the back of the head with a stone during an alteration at Tucker's smithy last Saturday. The blacksmith claims justification on the ground that Brodhead hit a lot of vile names.

Evolution Discussed.

"Evolution is a theory, not a science; it feels with processes, not causes," said Rev. Matt S. Hughes of Kansas City at the Methodist ministers' meeting. The ministers were asked, "Following the coming man, will he have social evolution, or human progress? But we want to know who furnished the raw material for that process, and science has no answer. I believe that Jesus was God manifest in the flesh, and that his humanity was real. But that which characterized Jesus Christ was the product of evolution any more than God is the product of evolution."

Warehouseman in Tela.

William H. Maurice, proprietor of the Central Wood, at No. 331 San Pedro street, was arrested yesterday by Deputy Constable Bassett on a warrant charging him with having in his possession a lot of oleomargarine in broken packages not labeled according to law. Maurice was held in custody when arraigned before Justice Austin, and was released on his own recognizance pending trial, which was set for April 25. The reason for Maurice's arrest is due to prosecutions commenced by the State Dairy Bureau, more than a ton of oleomargarine is alleged to have been found in his warehouse.

Visitor From San Diego.

Secretary H. P. Wood of the San Diego Chamber of Commerce was a visitor at the local chamber yesterday. Mr. Wood reported that the inquiries relating to certain oil wells this year are in excess of any time heretofore. Judging from information gathered the coming summer will be one of the most active in the history of the state that the San Diego Chamber of Commerce is making arrangements to visit Santa Ana, May 1st, the day after the opening of the oil show. The Santa Ana organization is arranging to give the visiting directors a trolley ride about the valley, and an effort will be made to make this visit an occasion of much interest.

Christian Endeavor Union.

An important meeting of the City Union Executive Committee was held last evening at which Endeavor societies throughout the city were well represented. Among the features the Program Committee reported an extensive visitation work. The committee was instructed to make arrangements for a union prayer-meeting to be held on April 25th, to supersede all the regular C. E. prayer meetings for that date in the city. E. D. Scott, transportation manager for the county, in connection with the coming State convention at Stockton, was present and gave an outline of plans. The report of the constitution remodeling committee was read by the president, Paul C. Brown, and after much discussion, was adopted. The Cumberland Presbyterian society was received into membership.
